

The benefits of collaboration

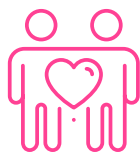

In the infrastructure environment collaboration is a necessity as demonstrated with the A46 flyover project at Binley.

Delivering highways projects that are safer, more sustainable and more cost-effective will stretch the ingenuity of the sector in new ways.

More equal opportunities

8% of workforce from under-represented and disability groups

Increasing social responsibility

260 hours of volunteering, such as litter picking and working with the Wildlife Trust

Improving social value

5 new job opportunities for locals and 3 new apprenticeships for locals

Increased wellbeing

160 hours of activities with people in the community, which influences health & wellbeing

Innovation and efficiency

Number of spans reduced from 5 to 4 and number of beams reduced from 10 to 8

To learn more about Octavius's approach to collaborative construction, visit our website: www.octaviusinfrastructure.co.uk